

Flag Retail

MEFF

November 2023

What is the Retail Flag?

It is a new system functionality at the order level that allows marking an order as belonging to a retail customer.

How it is used?

Its use is very simple and can be done in two ways:

-  Mark an account as a retail customer, so that all orders associated with that account will be considered as such.
-  Check the retail flag box within the invoice of an order, so that only this order will be treated as a retail order.

If I mark an account as retail, is it permanent?

No, the option to mark an account as belonging to a retailer can be changed at any time, and the system updates it in real-time.

What does marking an account or order with the Retail Flag?

Marking an account or order with the Retail Flag does not entail any new obligations for the customer but does offer a potential benefit.

The market will be able to see this feature, and if market makers deem it appropriate, they may tighten the spread in the contract, thus providing better prices for the customer.
